

Cavities Can Progress Quickly

- From white spots to painful broken teeth in few months

- The first signs of cavities are white spots or lines along the gumline.
- Cavities may form and become painful broken teeth in a few months.
- Hospitalization may be required if cavities are not treated in time.
- Regular visits with dental professional and daily toothbrushing with fluoride toothpaste can remineralize white spots on teeth and avoid progression to future painful broken teeth.